Dear Karen:

Thank you for taking the time to outline a corporate breastfeeding policy for us. As a small business, we are always looking for ways to support our employees's health and well-being. We believe that happy and healthy staff make a happy and healthy company.

The packet you gave us containing samples, educational material and coupons was an exciting way to learn more about breastfeeding. Having you identify places where employees could breastfeed or express milk was also very helpful.

But the best part is knowing that you are just a phone call away. Your knowledge and compassion makes us feel safe and secure that we will be getting the best information possible.

Thanks again for all of your help,

Lia Hollander
